LOCAL NEWS.

Brief Mention.

High water to-day at 2:20 p. m. Buy a house—R. E. Baldwin.

Loans and insurance furnished by Charles Wilson & Co., 42 Church Street. Manure specially compounded for fertilizing lawns. Conn. Concrete Co., 49 Church Street.

The first assembly of the season came off very successfully last evening at Warner hall and was largely attended. Morgan J. Flaherty, a former New Haven newspaper man, is at Bar Harbor, Me., where he is editing the Bar Harbor Record.

J. H. Fahey, New England agent of the Associated Press at Boston, formerly of this city, was in town last evening on a flying visit. America lodge No. 52, K. of P., will open a seven nights' fair in Old Union armory this evening. This is one of the youngest lodges of the order in the city.

Just the thing for Christmas gifts—those nice fur collarettes and fur shoulder capes at the Burgess Fur & Hat Co.'s; also those stylish dress suit cases, so desirable.

It suits the public, the display at Kirby's jewelry store for the holiday buyers. The stock is admirable and patrons keep proprietor Kirby and his courteous corps of aids very busy.

Dr. Harry A. Elcock a graduate of the Yale medical school, has just returned from Germany, where he recently finished a special course in medicine. He will open an office at 226 Crown Street.

The Christmas number of the New England Magazine contains a story by our townsman, Mr. Frederick H. Cogswell. It is entitled, "The Shadow on the Red House," and will be of special interest to New Haven people, not only because of its authorship, but because the scene is laid in Woodbridge and New Haven. The events described are those that took place on the 4th of July, 1779, when our city was invaded by our British foes. It is a vivid and dramatic picture of those stirring scenes, and the tragedy of a life is told with much power and pathos.

For Protection of Americans. Fall River, Dec. 6.—A meeting presided over by Mayor Greene was held in Music hall to-night to protest against the Armenian outrages. The speakers included Rev. W. Walker Jubb, Rev. Christopher Hughes, Hon. John W. Cummings, M. G. B. Swift and Professor Ramsey. Resolutions in harmony with the spirit of the meeting were adopted expressing approval of the action taken by our government in the matter and for the protection of Americans resident in Turkey and calling for subscriptions for Armenian relief. Several contributions were received.

ANNUAL CHURCH SERVICE.

Rev. I. C. Meserve to Preach Before the Clan McLeod and Caledonian Club To-morrow Night.

The members of the Clan McLeod, O. S. C., and the New Haven Caledonian club will attend divine service at Davenport church to-morrow evening, when they will be addressed by the Rev. I. C. Meserve, the pastor. Mr. Meserve has chosen a very interesting subject for his discourse, namely, "National Characteristics, Especially Scotch, and the Kingdom of God." The members of the two societies will meet at their hall, 400 State street, at 6:45 and proceed in a body to the church, and they extend a cordial welcome to all Scotchmen who are non-members to join them.
